Army Chapter Schedules Ball For Next Term

Freshmen Will Wear White Flannels, Dark Coats At Function

Favorable reports on Montana State college's annual military ball, attended recently by two local members of Scabbard and Blade, military fraternity, have induced the local chapter of the organization to sponsor a similar ball early next quarter.

Robert Zeldner, Pleasantwood, has been selected as director of the function and has named as his aides Morris Newgard, Kalispell, in charge of the ballroom and music with Jerry Ragsdale, Laurel, and Byron Price, Laurel, as assistants. Robert Rickert, Butte, in charge of decorations, has Merritt Warden, Broadview, and Jack Lubrecht, Bonner, as assistants. Assisting Lincoln Landall, Missoula, on programs and invitations are Laurence Labbitt, Hardin, and Joe McDowell, Deer Lodge.

Leighton Downing, Missoula, is in charge of ticket sales with Webster Seales, Missoula; Charles Whittinghill, Helena, and William Stolt, Billings, assisting. Ben Taylor, Troy, is in charge of the publicity arrangement with Boris Vladimiroff, Chicago, Karl Conklin, Manhattan, and Robert Larson, Thompson Falls, assisting.

George Van Noy, Lewistown, is assisted by John Harrison, Harlowton; Seldon Frisbee, Cut Bank, and James Freeburg, Portland, Oregon, in working general arrangements.

Zeldner wishes to make clear that freshmen will not wear uniforms. No basic uniforms will be worn at the ball. All freshmen wishing to attend will wear white flannels and dark coats, as the season will be sufficiently advanced to permit the wearing of such apparel.

Campus Independents will hold their last mass meeting of the quarter tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the meeting room of the Student Union building. Pete Meloy will speak on "Barb Organization," as the feature talk of the evening.

Ann Picchioni, Klein; Bill Wickes, Missoula, and Lena Bravo, Sand Coulee, who have been chosen freshman, junior and senior representatives, respectively, to the Independent council, will be in charge of the meeting.

The plans for "Flunkers' Fling," the Barb dance being held Thursday, March 19, will be discussed and the meeting will conclude with dancing to the music of Nat Allen. "Flunkers' Fling," as it is now planned, will be an all-school mixer to which Barbs will be admitted on their activity tickets.

Federal Banking Is Movie Feature

Reels Donated by Shoe Company To Be Shown March 10

A motion picture depicting the operation of a Federal Reserve bank has been procured by the business administration school in co-operation with the local banks and will be shown at the Student Union auditorium, March 10 at 8 o'clock.

Money counting machines, places for storage of the monetary reserve, and the general business of the bank with regard to the service it renders to the public will be featured in this entertaining picture.

The Nun Bush and Weldon Shoe company has donated two reels entitled "Fifty-two Paychecks Each Year" to the program. These pictures feature the benefits of the new unemployment insurance which has been put into effect in their factory. The picture has been produced from an academic point of view and is of considerable social and economic significance.

Awaiting Arrival of Exhibits From Washington, D. C.; Dean C. W. Leaphart, Walter Pope Will Defend Constitutionality of Statute

Waiting only for the arrival of exhibits from Washington, D. C., the test case to determine whether or not the state university is to have a new journalism building is ready to be filed in the state supreme court. The exhibits, which must be presented with the petitions for the case, were due here last week but have not yet arrived.

The briefs have been received in Missoula after being checked by the PWA officials in Washington and found to be in accordance with the questions they have raised concerning the application for federal loans.

Dean C. W. Leaphart of the Law school stated last night that everything is in readiness and the case will be presented to the court as soon as possible after the arrival of the exhibits. Leaphart and Walter Pope, professor of law at the state university, will defend the constitutionality of the statute which granted the State Board of Education the power to raise money for the purpose of constructing a new journalism and a new pharmacy-chemistry building on the campus. J. C. Garlington, alumnus of the law school, is the attorney for the plaintiff, F. W. Wilson, law school senior.

Wallace Brennan, local member of the State Board of Education, who has spent the past few weeks in the national capital, is working at present on the approval by officials of the bond and bond petition which must be sold to the government. With approval, only the decision of the supreme court will stand in the way of the $180,000 loan.

Co-eds' Formal Dance Attended By 500 Students

Leap Year Ball Is Financial and Social Success; Swanson Thanks Committee

More than 250 couples attended the annual Co-ed Formal which was held in the gold room of the Student Union building, Saturday night, February 29. Features of the evening were the grand march, led by Professor F. C. Scheuch and Dean Mary Elrod Ferguson, and the floor show which was given by talented youngsters who are students at the Fisher School of Dance.

Esther Swanson, Missoula, who was appointed chairman of this year's Co-ed Formal by A. W. S., deserves a large portion of the credit for the success of the leap year ball.

Dean Mary Elrod Ferguson granted a special late permission until 1:30 o'clock. Parties were given at the sorority houses following the dance.

Esther Swanson, chairman, said, "I wish to thank all of the chairmen and members of the committees who cooperated with me so willingly in making Co-ed Formal a success."

A. W. S. members said that due to the fact that Co-ed formal was a financial as well as social success this year, an even larger crowd is expected to attend next year.

Piano Recital Will Be Given By J. Crowder

Greater Portion of Program Comprised of Modern Compositions

John Crowder, professor in the music school, will give a piano recital in the Student Union auditorium, Sunday afternoon, March 8, at 4 o'clock. He made his last public appearance in November when he was guest soloist with the Seattle Symphony orchestra which played here as a part of the outside entertainment program.

During the winter quarter last year, Professor Crowder gave a public recital which was enthusiastically received. He has been a member of the university faculty since 1929, coming here from Manch college, where he was at the head of the piano department in 1928 and 1929.

Professor Crowder received his Bachelor of Arts degree at the University of Richmond in 1925. Following his graduation he spent three years studying music in Vienna, Austria.

The recital Sunday will include compositions by Granger, Beethoven, Debussy, Ibanez and Respighi—all of whom are modern composers with the exception of Beethoven.

ALUMNUS IS ADVANCED

Royal Pierson, who took his B.A. degree in botany here in 1930 and has been doing investigational work with the white pine blister rust control, has been appointed extension forester of Idaho. After graduation here, Pierson acquired his Master's degree at the University of Idaho in forest pathology under Dr. E. E. Hubert.

Playing Leading Role

Margaret Oratood, Missoula, who will appear in the role of Luce, the heroine, in the Masquers' production of "The Knight of the Burning Pestle." The play will be presented Thursday night.

Numerous New Features Found In Winter Play

Early Elizabethan Comedy Will Be Presented On Thursday

"The Knight of the Burning Pestle," Montana Masquers' winter quarter major production, will be presented to townspeople and university students Thursday evening, March 5, in the Student Union theater.

The play, an Elizabethan burlesque comedy by Francis Beaumont and John Fletcher, is characterized as being as distinctive as "Twelfth Night," and twice as funny. "Twelfth Night" was presented in the Little Theatre last winter.

"The Knight of the Burning Pestle," in which the dramatists have set out to make fun of the popular romances of knight-errantry, is called one of the earliest and best of the English burlesque comedies. In addition, they have brought another element into the play—the comments and interferences of the good grocer and his wife, who appear as an audience, and whose vitality explains much of the play's enduring popularity. Their parts are played by Mildred McDonald, Baker, and Dave Vesely, Lewistown.

Margaret Oratood, Missoula, plays the part of Luce, the daughter of Venturewell and the heroine of the production. Playing opposite Miss Oratood is Coyne Osborn, Livingston, who carries the part of Jasper, Venturewell's apprentice. The Knight of the Burning Pestle, or Ralph, the grocer's apprentice, is played by Roger Clapp, Butte.

The setting for the production is modern in design, and illustrates the latest in stage construction. Built on the inclined plane principle, it allows the audience to see the floors of the rising tiers that make up the base of the set.

Music for the play is directed by Andrew Corry, and is adapted from Elizabethan and Carolinian tunes. Bernard Hewitt, assisted by Kai Helberg, Missoula, is theatrical director.

Pharmacy Senior Publishes Article

"Paracelsus," by Winifred Keyes, Is Printed in Journal

Two articles by women in the university pharmacy school appeared in the February issue of the "American Professional Pharmacist." Winifred Keyes, Missoula, a senior in the pharmacy school, published a three page article in the magazine entitled "Paracelsus," an account of the life and work of the seventeenth century pharmacist. In the same issue appeared an article entitled "Women Belong to Pharmacy," by Hazel E. Landeen who received her M.A. degree from the pharmacy school in 1932.

Greek Governing Group Stands Against Proposal; Students Begin Balloting

Pan-Hellenic Vote Expected Tonight

Single Interfraternity Representative Gives Dissenting Opinion

Montana fraternities will not support the proposed student-faculty council in the spring quarter registration vote it was decided at a meeting of the interfraternity council last Thursday evening. The fraternity governing group, it was understood, voted, with but one representative dissenting, to instruct the houses to oppose the establishment of the campus council for a trial period.

Previously, it was learned several of the houses had taken a vote on the plan. Of these it was learned, all but Sigma Nu, which could not reach a decision, and Phi Delta Theta, which did not vote, were opposed to the plan. The one dissenting interfraternity council vote was cast by Bob Bates, Phi Delta Theta.

If the fraternities unanimously follow the council's instruction to vote against the student-faculty organization, several hundred votes will be recorded in opposition to the plan from that group alone. However, the plan may be accepted despite interfraternity's action.

Members of Pan-Hellenic council have not yet voted on the question but are expected to do so at their regular meeting tonight. Maryalys Marrs, president of the intersorority group, expressed the opinion last night that the council question would be considered by Pan-Hellenic this evening.

Former Columnist Marries in Helena

Eddie P. Astle, Kalmin Humorist, Weds Whitefish Woman

Ada Marie Stout became the bride of Edwin Paul Astle, on February 16, in Helena. Astle was graduated from the journalism school in 1932 and was well-known on the campus as the Kalmin columnist, "Uncle Hud." The ceremony was performed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Aiken.

Bride and bridegroom have been Helena residents for the past two years. Mrs. Astle is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Sout of Whitefish, and has been one of the staff of the state purchasing department. Astle is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Astle of Hardin, and was formerly assistant secretary to the late Governor F. H. Cooney. Recently he was appointed to a supervisory position with the re-settlement administration.

Eugene Sunderlin, who was graduated from the university in 1933, is now doing graduate work at Wadham college, Oxford, England. He is studying chemistry and doing research work on dipolar movements.

Times for Payment of Fees Are Changed to Later Date

Payment of fees for the spring quarter will be made at a later date than was announced last week, because spring vacation has been lengthened two days. President

George Finlay Simmons announced last Thursday that spring vacation would be two days longer than scheduled this year, providing the students enter into a "gentlemen's agreement" with him, that they will return to classes Wednesday morning, March 25.

All students whose names begin with "A" through "M" should make their payments on March 25 and 26—Wednesday and Thursday. Those whose names begin with "N" through "Z" should make their payments on

Desirability of Plan Is Being Checked

Organization Is to Be Given Trial If Oked Is Received

Ballots on the Student-Faculty council were issued by the registrar's office during the period allotted for securing registration blanks, yesterday and today.

The question on the ballot is, "Do you favor a trial of the Student-Faculty council?" Students are requested to vote on the issue, place their ballots in the envelopes which are provided, and hand them in with registration cards.

No ballots will be accepted unless they are turned in with registration certificates, thus forming a check on the number of votes cast.

This second vote is the result of the dissatisfaction that was expressed by some students after the first vote of February 13. At that time a standing vote was taken at a convocation in the Student Union auditorium with some 500 students attending. The majority of those attending the convocation voted in favor of granting a two-year trial to the plan. The faculty committee, composed of Dr. Lucia B. Mirrelees, Professor Anne Platt, Dr. R. L. Housman, Dean C. W. Leaphart and Professor E. L. Freeman made arrangements for the second vote as soon as the dissatisfaction became known to them.

Following the previous vote arrangements were begun to put the council into operation. These plans have been withheld until the outcome of the present balloting is determined.

If the vote of the students again favors the plan it will be established for a trial period to last until January 1, 1938, at which time another vote will be taken to determine whether or not it will be made a permanent part of the state university.

Need for Comment

Occasionally we hear remarks that the Kaimin does not give enough publicity to deserving campus groups which work hard and whose compensation is nothing more than the pleasure which they derive from their particular branches of activity. At other times we hear that the Kaimin is too caustic in its criticisms of purely amateur productions.

Both remarks are made by persons who mean well but who do not have a thorough knowledge of the facts. The Kaimin will go to any limit to maintain an impartial policy. It distributes that news which to its editors seems to be the most important information for the greatest number of students. Infallibility is no cinch. The Kaimin, if it is convinced that it has been unfair, loses no time in making amends.

The men's and women's Glee clubs have given several concerts and—more often—they have been an integral, important part of such functions as the Student Union dedication and the inaugural ceremonies of President George Finlay Simmons. We do not believe that Dean DeLoss Smith has ever produced Glee clubs which are the equal of the groups which sang at these important ceremonies. We recall last May at the funeral of the late President C. H. Clapp the Glee clubs—ever a changing group which thus presents manifold and repeated problems to Dean Smith—performed notably, but they were flawless at the inaugural rites. One of the astounding things about the Glee clubs—and it is astounding—is that the members will cut movies, basketball games and studies to attend practices. That's not only a compliment to Dean Smith, but it is an evidence of a determination which explains the fine programs which the clubs have presented.

The question that confronts the Kaimin, if comment on such organizations is lacking, is that of space. The inauguration brought scores of people to Missoula. The program of events included speeches and performances by many notables. The inauguration ceremony itself was not composed of one speech by one important man: it was made up of many important talks by many important men. Here was a day when Montana education made headlines the whole width and breadth of the state. The Glee clubs and the symphony orchestra had to remain in the background, although their contribution to the program was important and necessary for a varied, interest-holding ceremonial. In the same way they remained in the background of the news stories. The same situation was true of the dedication ceremonies of the Student Union building. The Kaimin is responsive, but sometimes it simply hasn't enough space.

Then there's the question concerning the so-called caustic criticism of amateurs. What would these judges of Kaimin policy have the newspaper do? Is the Kaimin a mere stooge—a parrot—which says and prints what it is told? We do not believe it is and we refuse to follow such a policy. The Kaimin is a laboratory for students in journalism as much as the pharmacy lab is the workroom and the library stacks are the preparatory section—the apprentice divisions—of the pharmacy school or the library department. The prime aim of the good reporter or reviewer is to tell the truth, no matter how much that truth may hurt. It is only by revealing the truth that progress may be attained. When praise is due, the Kaimin reviewer is only too happy to shout that news. When criticism is due, the Kaimin reporter will state that criticism. He states what he believes to be the truth.

It is in this way that the Kaimin views the passing events. If it has made an error, it will compensate for that error. It will give praise where praise is due. It will maintain free and open criticism—"beefs" and communications. It will strive to tell the truth.

The House Nominates for Oblivion

The Townsend plan—of the sponsors, for the sponsors and by the sponsors; a movement operated for the benefit of its administrators at the expense of America's gullible oldsters. That definition of the nation's most recent scatter-brained Utopian scheme for solving depressions is very apt to have Congressional sanction and very soon, if the investigation approved by the House of Representatives by the overwhelming majority of 240 votes to four, succeeds in delving into the facts behind the sanctimonious exterior which it presents to the easily duped. The move upon the part of the House to launch an investigation ostensibly in order to determine whether or not the Townsend king pins are using the mails to defraud their constituents and whether any of the proceeds therefrom are being spent in political campaigns in violation of the Corrupt Practices Act is admittedly not purely a humanitarian move. It has its political ramifications as well, since an expose of any racketeering in the policies of the Townsend leaders would convincingly demonstrate to the voters its utter folly.

Naturally those few congressmen who back the plan are incensed at what they term "pure and unadulterated political persecution" but the sensible majority who recognize the scheme as economically unsound realize a Congressional investigation is the only feasible means whereby the Townsend Plan can be eliminated as a political issue. Should the investigation reveal irregularities in the Townsend administration, the foes of the plan need worry no further about airing their opposition to Townsendism even in districts which are at present teeming with alleged transaction tax advocates.

It is inconceivable that following an expose even the most rabid Townsendites would be able to argue against facts. Rid of the Townsend bugaboo in this campaign, both parties can instead devote their time to providing sensible solutions to the problem of solving the nation's ills.

Grave markers for the French killed in the World war are of a quality good enough to last only a generation and a half. Apparently the supposition is that there will have been another war by that time.

Evidently the Grizzlies don't like to be classed in the small colleges of Montana.—Montana Exponent.

Those who think the world owes them a living will soon find that the world has declared a moratorium.

PARABLES OF HUDAMORE THE SEER

And lo it came to pass that Hudamore the Seer sat in his tent and carried in his heart an Great Sorrow, for it had come that after giving of advice to others, The Wise One was unable to solve his own problems when they gave him visitation.

So whilst he moaned, his troubles were heard by his friend and counselor, a great bird, Sheep Dip the Owl in name, who had sought refuge in the Seer's cot during a severe cold four and twenty years previous, and who had since that time been his Constant Companion.

Forsooth, spake the Owl, tell unto me that which Grieves you Sore, Oh Master, and perhaps succor to your troubled mind I can give.

For example, I loatheth Much Dough and clarivoyant prestige on the outcome of the Intersorority Song Contest, and cannot yet see the justice in the Outcome.

And further, it is an mystery why students find it impossible to sit through a musical prologue at the local Emporium of Flickers, and lastly, why Football Warriors loath about in the lounge and refuse to partake in Winter Practice.

State College Rifleman Will Not Accept Match

Montana state college's rifle team is unable to accept the challenge to fire a match against the university women's team, it has been learned here.

Lack of athletic funds was given as the reason for the refusal of the college men to meet the university team. The challenge had been issued under the impression that the college team would be in Missoula to fire against the university men's team.

Sporty Vents

Montana's Grizzlies will close their 1935-36 basketball season tonight when they meet the School of Mines in Butte. The Miners fell before the university squad in an earlier conflict this season when the Grizzlies were sweeping along on their way to establishing a new consecutive win streak. Then, on Friday night the Orediggers came back to upset the Grizzlies. Tonight's game should be a thriller with the university squad anxious to win the final game of what has not been a particularly satisfactory road trip and wind up the season with another victory.

This year's basketball team has been no world-beater but its performance has been creditable. It is a team which has never conceded the chance of coming within 15 points of the Bobcats and yet has on two occasions held the college rivals to close scores and failed to beat them only because of the fickleness of luck. The Kaimin, despite what Hezikiah Hayseed and his mates at Bozeman have to say, never gave the Grizzlies more than an outside chance to whip the Bobcats. But the Kaimin is wondering what the Bozemanites think of the team which must have caused considerable consternation among the Aggie rooters Saturday night when they nearly upset the pride of the Gallatin valley. Fortunately, however, it made little difference whether or not the Grizzlies defeated the Bobcats; there were plenty of Rocky Mountain conference teams to do it for them this season.

One of the things about sports which causes so much interest is the fact that it is one phase of activity where the stove-leaguers get a great kick out of drawing comparisons. And next year it is going to be very gratifying to draw a comparison between the Grizzly basketball squad of this year and that of the coming season. Green material, players which have gone through the fire this season, will become experienced, highly skillful basketweavers next year. And what will a sophomore team which has given the Bobcats the scares it has this season do to the state college squad—as well as other teams next year?

Four first-string players are just completing their first season of varsity ball. Thomson, Chumrau, Glover and Miller will all be back again next season to form the nucleus for a strong team. Ineligible men and freshmen stars of this year will join the ranks to give the university what promises to be the greatest hoop team of recent years.

Understand us, we're not complaining about the showing made this year. Considering that there was but one returning veteran in the starting lineup and that the team had to depend upon younger players, lacking in experience, for its scoring punch and defensive ability, we think the season has been far from a bust. The two games against the Bobcats and the second Gonzaga fray are convincing testimonials to how much the team progressed during the season and how good it really was. Then, too, there is a little matter of winning eight consecutive games to establish a new university record.

Tomorrow night the greatest amateur ring show in western Montana will attract the sports faithful of Missoula. Fourteen wrestlers and ten boxers will face each other for the university championships and a howling crowd is expected to be on hand to cheer on their favorites. The annual M club tournament is one event which is looked forward to with a good deal of speculation as to the outcome of the various fights and the athletes put on a show which is well worth the money.

All proceeds from the tournament go to improve the athletic situation at the university. It is an older and more established part of the program of building better athletic teams for the state university.

UNIFORMITY

The simple mechanical details of cigarette manufacture are of surprising importance. Upon them depend the physical properties of the cigarette, such as weight, size, firmness, moisture-holding properties, uniformity of fill—uniformity of product—all of which have a far-reaching effect on the character of its combustion and the constituents of its smoke.

In the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes all of these properties have been standardized with care for the perfection of A LIGHT SMOKE.

Annual Ring Tournament Is Tomorrow Night

Twelve Titles Are at Stake In Big Show

Babich Will Meet Perusich In Feature Event Of Program

Boxing and wrestling championships of the state university for 1936 will be decided tomorrow night when 24 contestants, who either hold campus championships or have fought their way into the finals through elimination bouts, meet in the annual M club tournament. The tournament, which is the biggest amateur ring show in Missoula and western Montana, will be held in the men's gymnasium and the first gong will be sounded at 8 o'clock.

Seven bouts of boxing and seven of wrestling will provide the large crowd which the annual event always attracts with a full evening of entertainment and thrills.

Two of these fights are exhibitions between W. Lindgren and Pat Connolly and Roy Babich and Bill Perusich. The Babich-Perusich fight will be a feature of the card. Babich is former Pacific coast amateur heavyweight champion and Perusich, a Butte heavyweight, is intermountain A. A. U. champion. The two fighters have met on previous occasions and their bout is expected to be the highlight of the tournament.

"Ticket sales are progressing," John Sullivan, president of the lettermen's organization, said yesterday. "There are a few good seats still available," Sullivan said and expressed the hope that extra seats could be placed to accommodate what promises to be an overflow crowd.

Grizzlies Lose to Miners And Bobcats Over Week-end

University Squad Drops Game to Butte School Friday By 38-30 Score; College Squad Takes Thriller From Bears 41-39; Glover, Chumrau Star

Montana Grizzlies dropped two games over the week-end, the first to the Mines at Butte Friday night by a score of 38-30, and Saturday night to the Bobcats at Bozeman by a score of 41-39. The Mines game was loose but fast, and 42 fouls were called. Miners took an early lead and the closest the Grizzlies climbed was 28-31 two minutes before the end of the game.

By defeating the Grizzlies, the Bobcats stepped into the major school basketball championship of Montana. Leadership of this game changed eight times during the first half and the score was tied three times during that period. At the half the score was 17-16 for the Bobcats. Starting the second period the Cats managed to fend off the Grizzlies until near the middle of the stanza when the tally was tied at 33 all. The Bobcat quit then quickly rallied and in four minutes built up a 41-35 lead. During the final four minutes of play, Glover and Miller of the university each sent a long shot swishing through the net.

Grizzlies Win Second Clash From Bulldogs

"We're a cinch to win by ten points or better," was the pre-game prediction of Coach Kakuska and the entire population of Dillon and Beaverhead county which jammed the Normal College gym last night to view the teachers wallop the Grizzlies. Ten minutes later the dumbfounded crowd viewed the scoreboard tally of 30-5 with the highly touted Bulldogs then distinct underdogs. Then Rouse, giant guard, spilled the Normalites' second field goal, added a free throw, and Crooker converted a pair of gifts. Blastic was forlorn under the hoop and then in came the entire Bulldog second club, which roughed its way to collect four points before Blastic finished the half with a marathon heave.

Two Grizzlies exceeded the foul limit after Blastic eluded Crooker under the hoop for a cinch. Crooker added a free toss, Wetzal a rebound and then Blastic stood alone for a setup. Miller went to the showers and Crooker added one point to the Bulldogs' scanty store. McGinley started a spurt with a long one and then a pair of hole shots. Thomson split the strings from the foul line and McGinley was donated one. Mitchell and Cat added gift shots, Rouse a hole shot, Keithley one from the side and Rouse a free throw and a distance toss.

With five minutes remaining the Bulldogs showed their first basketball of the evening. Bilant and Rouse connecting while Thomson spilled three points. Then Rouse batted in a rebound and Crooker added a gift shot. The score stood 50-29 and the Grizzly supporters began to look glum. Thomson put a damper on the Dillon fans' hopes by potting two free throws. Rouse added a long one and Blastic called it a day with a setup, making the final score 54-41.
